

Nawaj Sarif

Nawaj Sarif is a Senior Research Fellow at the Department of Migration and Urban Studies in the International Institute of Population Sciences (IIPS), is a doctoral candidate specializing in urban growth patterns, with a focus on shrinking cities. His research expertise includes spatial demography, migration, population ageing, and geospatial data analysis, showcasing his dedication to advanced research methodologies in population studies.

Email: nawajsarif25@gmail.com