Subarna Banerjee

Subarna Banerjee is a fourth-year PhD student at Shiv Nadar Institution of Eminence and a recent fellow at NCAER's National Data Innovation Centre. Her research interests lie in applied work encompassing the fields of education, gender, and political economy. She holds a Master of Science in Economics from Shiv Nadar University and a BSc. Economics (Hons) from Presidency University, Kolkata. Her academic pursuits reflect a deep commitment to advancing evidence-based policymaking through novel data approaches in the Social Sciences.